

Painting Outdoors Introduction

Waterfront Program Center at Lake Johnson Park

Join us for this introductory outdoors painting course!

Painting outside provides a naturally inspiring environment and will give you better information to create a successful painting. Each class starts with a discussion of how to deal with the unique challenges of painting outdoors, such as composition, changing light, scale, color, value and space. After a demonstration, students will paint with individual guidance from the instructor, Rick Bennett. This class is for artists of all experience levels, though students will need basic knowledge of the medium that they are painting with.

Each artist is responsible for bringing their materials and setting up equipment.
